Supported by some of Scotland's finest young accordionists

In the week leading up to this event, 10 of Scotland's most promising young accordionists (including Clelland Shand , 2017 World Champion in the 12 and under Musette category – follow hyperlink or go to YouTube) will have been attending an inspirational 5 day course sponsored by the Falkirk Branch of the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society and run by one of the World's most outstanding accordion teachers, Fredric Deschamps from France , ably assisted by one of his top students, Maksym Hafych, from Ukraine. This event will give these young accordionists the chance to showcase their talents and demonstrate what they have learned from their masterclasses. The programme will also give Maksym the opportunity to show off his virtuosic playing.

Adin Graham and Emma Dickson are established musicians in their own right and along with Emma's sister Hannah on fiddle they have won the trio competition at the All Scotland Accordion and Fiddle Championships once and the NAAFC Accordion and fiddle Championships two years in a row, with both performances being aired on BBC Radio Scotland's "Take the Floor". They play a variety of Traditional and Folk music whilst finding new avenues to explore and push their music in new directions.
